California Wing Policy Letter #8

Subject: Dual Specialty Rating for Mission Pilots

It is the policy of California Wing that Mission Pilots also be rated as Mission Scanners or Observers.

CAP pilot candidates for Mission Pilot Trainee will complete the Basic Scanner Ground Training Class as part of their academic instruction prior to being issued a CAPF 101T card for Mission Pilot Trainee. Scanner training will permit granting the dual rating as a Mission Pilot and Mission Observer (including Mission Scanner) upon satisfactory completion of practical training and an evaluation flight check (CAP Form 91).

Currently qualified SAR/DR Mission Pilots may add the Observer (and Scanner) rating by attending the Basic Scanner Ground Training Class.

Documentation of the upgrade will be done through currently accepted procedures, the Wing Management Utility for the Emergency Services specialties and CAPF2a for the Observer aeronautical rating.
